The replacement pages filed 10-17-02 have been entered.

Applicant's arguments filed 10-17-02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued Hudson does not teach that any solution with the particles removed may be used, and there is no motivation for modifying the teachings of Hudson with the disclosure of Kaufman. These arguments are respectfully found to be unpersuasive for the following reasons. Kaufman could stand alone as a reference, as Kaufman teaches the solution comprising the three components without particles (col. 9, lines 32-61). With respect to motivation for combining the references, it is considered that, as Kaufman discloses the dissolution rate of the solution without particles (col. 9, lines 39-43), therefore one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to have used the solution in the method taught by Hudson. In addition, it is the composition that is disclosed by Kaufman that reads on the composition in the instant claims, in which a composition is claimed, and it is disclosed both by Kaufman and by Hudson that the composition is useful in the fabrication of a semiconductor device .

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 16-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hudson in view of Kaufman, et al. .

The reasons are as stated in paper No. 5 and as argued above.

Art Unit: 2825
